Canaima National Park

Auyántepeui Trek

Best time to visit – Dry season (Jan-May) /
end of Rainy season (Nov-Dec)

Special departure dates • 8 days

Day 1: Ciudad Bolívar - Kavak

Flight from Ciudad Bolívar to Kavak. Take a small plane from Ciudad Bolívar to Kavak (normally Cessna 206) flying over Lake Guri, dense rainforest and the Caroní River before reaching the majestic tepuis of La Gran Sabana. Land at the picturesque native village Kavak where typical native huts (churuatas) stand in front of the dark, steep walls of Auyántepeui. In the afternoon take an excursion (2hrs) to the sacred cave of Kavak in Kavak Canyon, a beautiful walk culminating in a refreshing swim beneath Kavak's spectacular waterfall. (L, D)

Day 2: Kavak - Guayaraca

Hike from Kavak to Guayaraca (about 6 hours). Early morning start the trek towards Auyántepeui, walking from river to river, passing the Okono-River and ascending to Guayaraca Camp. (B, L, D)

Day 3: Guayaraca – El Peñón

Ascend to the second plateau El Peñón (about 7 hours). Hike across savanna until reaching the dense rainforest around Auyántepeui. Cross the dense tepui vegetation to eventually arrive at the gigantic rock of El Peñón under which we take shelter for the night. (B, L, D)

Mystical Auyántepeui

Day 4: El Peñón – El Oso

Ascend to El Oso (about 7 1/2 hours). Traverse a "stony" landscape before arriving at the steep wall of the tepui. Hike along the wall and ascend passing a huge crevice en route. Climbing with a rope is necessary but can be done without any experience. The black landscape is impressive and reminds one of primeval times. After two hours hike arrive at El Libertador rock our resting point. In the afternoon continue the trek to El Oso where again we sleep under the shelter of a rock. El Oso is a beautiful place on the summit alongside a river. (B, L, D)

Day 5: Exploration of the summit

Explore the surroundings of El Oso. Hike across huge slabs downhill to a tributary of the river Churún, where you may take a refreshing bath in the cool clear water. Continuing the exploration across the slabs one will see different type of endemic vegetation, mosses, cacti and orchids etc. (B, L, D)

The vastness of Auyántepeui

Day 6: El Oso to El Peñón

Descend from El Oso to El Peñón (about 6 hours). (B, L, D)

Day 7: El Peñón to Uruyén

Descend from El Peñón to Uruyén (about 8 hours). Hike back to Guayaraca and have a rest at the same place where you spent the night some days before. Further downhill you cross Río Ocoña and arrive finally at Uruyén, a small native village near Uruyén River where Jimmie Angel and Ruth Robertson both set up base camps before their exploratory trips to Auyántepeui and Angel Falls. (B, L, D)

Day 8: Uruyén to Ciudad Bolívar

Flight to Ciudad Bolívar departing around noon. (B)

Roraima Trek

Best time to visit – dry season (Jan-May)
Departs Daily • 6 days

Day 1:

Depart Santa Elena for a 2 to 3 hour journey to Pareitepuy the starting point for a 4-5 hr trek to the Kukenán River. There are 2 refreshing river crossings and some 30 minutes of stronger uphill walking. The river crossing at Kukenán River depends on the water level and can be treacherous! If the weather and sight are good enjoy the views of Mount Roraima, Kukenán and many other tepuys that form the Guyana shield. The terrain is open savannah mainly. (L,D)

Day 2:

Trek uphill for a good 2 hrs crossing fields of orchids then another 2 to 4 hrs trekking for the day before we reach base camp. Fresh water flows from the top of "the ever fruitful mother of the streams - Roraima". The Indian name is perfect as "mother's" water feeds the Amazon, Orinoco and the Essequibo, the 3 biggest rivers in South America! (B, L, D)

Day 3:

Waking alongside a thick and lush belt of humid cloud forest we trek for about 2 hrs through this thick and beautiful jungle with many neo tropical plants such as bromeliads, tree ferns and heliconas. After another 2 hours of ascent along a path with big rocks we reach the top of the plateau, seems like we landed on the moon! Lunch followed by an exploration of the strange surroundings on this "island in time". (B, L, D)

"Islands in time" – National Geographic May 1989

Day 4:

The plateau of Roraima is around 70 sq kms with strange formed rock formations, bizarre flesh eating endemic plants (drosseras) and black dinosaur looking frogs. Explore this labyrinth of black lichen tainted rocks and hike for the whole day. Reach the valley of crystals, the obelisk monument of Triple Point (border of Venezuela – Brazil - Guyana) - no passport required. Hike to "El Pozo", a natural water hole with a small cave system beneath. Truly fantastic - around 8 hours of walking and exploration on the plateau. (B, L, D)

Strange rock formations

Day 5: Time for some last photographs of the plants and views - we start our descent saying good-bye to the giant flying turtle and all the other strange rock formations! We will trek to Rio Tek (around 6 to 8 hours), mostly strong down hill and a refreshing swim in the cool river will be the supreme reward after the days long trek. (B, L, D)

Day 6:

Last day with 3 to 4 hours to Pareitepuy cold beers and icy refreshments await! Be aware that the local authorities will check everyone for crystals and other "souvenirs". The taking of anything from the mountain is strictly prohibited. Jeep returns to Santa Elena. (B, L)

Please note:

- 1) Medium to high standard for trekkers
- 2) Departing only from Santa Elena de Uairen at 8am on day 1, finishing at 6pm on day 6
- 3) 6 to 8 hours of daily trekking / hiking
- 4) Pemón and Guyanese guides
- 5) All camping and cooking gear provided
- 6) Easier to travel to Santa Elena by bus with departures at 7.30pm daily from Caracas

DIVE VENEZUELA'S PIRATE COAST

Henri Pittier National Park

Best time to visit – All Year
Departs Daily

Just 3 hrs from Caracas along the Caribbean coastline there lays a lagoon on the edge of Venezuela's Henri Pittier National Park – La Cienaga. Here it is said that Captain Morgan used to anchor his galleon in wait for the Spanish ships to pass by. Along the rocky coastline are walls, caves, grottos, coral reefs, two sunken vessels (Carmen Fabiana - a small freighter and Gran Roque - a tug boat) and even your own lagoon, right on your doorstep, just waiting to be explored by adventurous divers.

With 16 dive sites to choose from this is a great location to simply kick back and spend a few days of underwater exploration. What makes this place different is the prime location of the dive lodge, sitting on the edge of a pristine coral lagoon (<http://www.angel-ecotours.com/lodge/lodge.html>), surrounded on three sides by mountainous rain forest, only accessible by fishing boat and about a 20 minute boat ride from the local fishing village. When you want a rest from diving or have any non-divers in your party there is something for everyone – swimming, snorkeling, kayaking, and hiking trails in the rainforest, wildlife observation and even relaxing in a hammock strung up at the waters edge!

If there are a few folks in the group that also want to take learn to dive or take a Discovery Dive you can do that right in front of the lodge and what a view! No cold swimming pool and ugly dive locations for these lessons.

We have PADI and SSI certified dive instructors - the locations are suitable for beginners & experienced divers alike.

Sample Program:

Day 1: Caracas - El Playon

Transfer to El Playon and De La Costa Ecologde. Spend afternoon at the pristine crescent beaches of Cata or Catica. Optional 2 tank afternoon dive. Overnight in El Playon at De La Costa Ecologde. (D)

Day 2-4: El Playon - La Cienaga

Transfer to Coral Lagoon Lodge in La Cienaga by fishing boat. 2 tank dives daily to local spots (chosed from 16 dive locations). Kayaking, trekking local trails, wildlife viewing in spare time or simply relax in your own beach side hammock. Overnight at Coral Lagoon Lodge. (B, L, D)

Day 5: La Cienaga – Caracas

Transfer to Caracas or other dive locations of Los Roques, Mochima or Morrocoy. (B)

Please note:

Group discounts and group rates available.
Suitable for beginners and advanced divers.
All dive equipment available, including kayaks and snorkel gear for other activities.
Independent diving: from $45 per person
Discovery dives and dive courses available – PADI and SSI (3 full days & 5 dives from $280 – instruction equipment and practice dives and certification)

Pirate Coast - Dive Sites

1. Morro de Turiamo - explore a rocky outcrop at the mouth of Turiamo bay. Ocean going fish, groupers, lobsters and conger eels

2. Punta de Turiamo - a sheer mountain wall that drops 20 meters below the surface ending on a sandy bottom offers a myriad of marine life with plenty of fish and sea creatures hiding in the nooks and crannies

3. Pared de Turiamo - a mountain wall, lots of nooks and crannies with chance to see larger fish

4. Carmen Fabiana - this 100 meter (300 feet) freighter was purposely sunk to cater for experienced divers and lays on its side at a depth of 30-40 mtrs. (90-20 feet). Carmen Fabiana's cabins, decks and hold play host to colourful fish large and small. Although visibility is challenged sometimes exploring the cabin's decks and holds is rewarding as they are teeming with schools of fish, large groupers and lobsters

5. Gran Roque – a tugboat 30 mtrs. long was sunk at 18 mtrs next to a pinnacle that is teeming with marine life. End your dive exploring the wreck. Groupers are abundant

6. Pared de Guabina - explore the mountain wall with three shallow caves. Conger eels are found here

7. Pared de Guabinita - explore the mountain wall and the forest of soft corals

8. Punta de Guabinita - descend to 6 mtrs. to a sandy bottom, dive through a forest of soft coral and explore the sheer mountain walls that reach the sand at 25 mtrs. Return at 10 mtrs. along the mountain wall and explore the grottos where the fish hang out. Conger eels also found here

9. Jurelito - a mountain wall with sand bottom at 25 mtrs. featuring a shallow hard coral reef with giant brain corals. Good for night dives also

10. Roquero de la Cienaga - a rocky out crop at 30 mtrs within the bay of the Coral Lagoon with large snappers, groupers and lobsters amongst many fish

11. Bajo de la Cienaga - in front of the lodge - a 10-metre shore dive featuring the internal fringe of Coral lagoon. Lobsters, soft coral, fan corals etc. teeming with shoals of fish. Good for night dives

"SPECIAL EXPEDITION"

Ruth Robertson's "Forgotten Expedition" to Angel Falls

© Angel-Eco Tours, Inc.

Best time to visit – Rainy Season
Special Departure Dates • 6 days

Spurting from a cliff more than half a mile high in the jungle fastnesses of eastern Venezuela is Angel Falls, world's highest waterfall, 15 times higher than Niagara Falls or, by another yardstick, more than twice the height of the Empire State Building. Its first drop is 2,648 feet; its total 3,212.

I saw it the first time from the co-pilot's seat of an old unconverted C-47 just two years ago as we flew over this weirdly beautiful high jungle between the Orinoco and Amazon Rivers. On that flight to Auyántepeui, so called Devil Mountain, I shot more than a dozen Kodachromes in the dead-end of Angel Falls canyon.

As we flew over the dense jungle floor of the canyon, I resolved someday to enter that canyon valley on foot to get photographs from the base of Angel Falls and to determine its exact height.

Ruth Robertson - May 1949

This trip is a special program with specialist guest tour leaders that will relate the full Ruth Robertson experience, reading from extracts from her diary and memoirs as we follow her route all the way to Angel Falls. Special dates will be published for this expedition in July, August and December.

For Ruth, her epic expedition started in Caracas on April 23rd 1949, she reached Angel Falls on May 11th 1949 and Mayupa Rapids on May 17th. Our expedition will take only six days!

Day 1: Caracas - Uruyén

Early morning transfer to airport. Fly to Puerto Ordaz transfer to a light plane for two hour flight to Uruyén, landing on the same landing strip where both Jimmie Angel (who first discovered the Falls in 1935) and Ruth Robertson set up base camps before their respective expeditions. Day 3: Kavak - Arenal

Early morning transfer to Kamarata port for riverboat expedition (curiaras) to Angel Falls. First stop will be Kamarata to visit the local school children at school or homes of the local Pemón. Overnight in hammocks at Arenal camp on the bank of the Carrao River with spectacular views of the river and the tabletop mountains of Uey-tepuí and Auyántepeui. (B,L,D)

Day 4: Arenal - Angel Falls

After a "special" ceremony in preparation for the day's adventure, we take to the river early morning for the penultimate leg of our expedition. Entering the awe inspiring "Devil Canyon" on the Rio Churún we will make our final approach to Angel Falls. Trek through the rainforest to "Laime's Lookout Point" – the same point where Laime and Ruth stood in May 1949 to photograph the falls. Overnight at Ratoncito Island camp in hammocks. (B,L,D)

Day 5: Angel Falls - Canaima - Ciudad Bolívar

Early morning curiara ride to Canaima along the Churún and Carrao rivers. We will pass close by Mayupa airstrip where Ruth finished her epic journey on May 17th. One last adventure - before bidding farewell to our captain and his Pemón crew – Sapo Falls beckons. Walk behind the gushing curtain – one of seven waterfalls unloading its raw energy into Canaima Lagoon with great vistas from the top of the falls. Fly to Ciudad Bolívar; visit with Jimmie Angel's famous plane at the airport. Overnight at Hotel La Cumbre. (B,L,D)

Day 6: Ciudad Bolívar - Caracas

Morning city tour of Ciudad Bolívar (optional extra). Transfer to airport for flight to Caracas - for return journey home, an extra night of fun in Caracas or on to Henri Pittier for a few days relaxation at Coral Lagoon Lodge (or other Venezuelan eco-destinations). (B)

Please note:

Departures - arrive in Caracas on Friday for Saturday departure to Canaima. Special departure dates can be arranged for groups of 4 or more. Saturday arrivals must arrive by midday and transfer to Ciudad Bolívar or Puerto Ordaz for first overnight (charge extra).

Making a difference	How this holiday makes a difference As the Coral Lagoon has grown popular as a travel destination the effects of uncontrolled tourism have grown apparent in the form of coral degradation, fish reduction and the appearance of refuse. To overcome these problems we have joined forces with the local neighborhood association in the formulation and execution of a sustainable tourism plan for the bay. The plan aims to define a clear set of rules for the bays users, measure the present flow of visitors to the bay in order to establish a carrying capacity of the area, as well as to determine and execute measures to prevent further damage and to recuperate the affected environment. With funding obtained from our commercial activities and as an education and sensitization measure we have already placed environmental education notice boards in the key transit points used by visitors to the bay. We have placed 20 collection refuse collection points around the bay with 20 more planned and have managed an agreement with the local boatmen to retrieve the refuse. We presently offer our lodge and our radio equipment as a communications center for medical and security emergencies and to report illegal fishing activities in the bay. We have also donated radio equipment to the local national guard outpost in charge of environmental offences. Public toilets, anchor points for boats, a public information center and the creation of the figure of bay ranger are planned for the near future. The Coral Lagoon Lodge is located within a stilted timber building dating from the 60's. All refurbishment work of the lodge was carried out by local residents and maximized the use of local building materials. We also recycled where possible the existing timber elements of the building. The Eco-Lodge is self sufficient. All our freshwater supply comes from rainwater collection and our toilets flush with saltwater. Power is presently generated through generator but we already store surplus power in batteries thus increasing the efficiency of the system over 200%. We are currently switching to Solar power system with a generator as back-up to reduce noise, increase operational efficiency and reduce CO2 emissions. We have an operational workforce all comprised of local residents (2 full time staff and 2 part time/seasonal). We subcontract services to local providers i.e. boats and boatmen, trucks and local taxis. We maximize the use of local products in our kitchen purchases i.e. fish, vegetables etc. We minimize the use of toxic materials in our buildings and construction where possible. i.e. minimize use of bleach as a cleaning agent and experiment with other appropriate options such as vinegar. We encourage guests to use towels and sheets for 2 days to minimize washing and detergent use. All our organic refuse is composted and serves as food supply for local wildlife and non-recyclable refuse is returned to civilization for appropriate disposal.

	We discourage the purchase of products/items that are known to be direct/indirect detriments to wildlife or environment i.e. lobster out of season, fish that has been spear-gunned, necklaces made from coral, game meat or live wild animals that has been poached from the park. View our slide show of La Cienaga: http://angel-ecotours.com/lodge/slideshow/

Special community based projects:

Angel-Eco is proud to be Venezuela's inbound operator for a number of major tour operators. By working with Angel-Eco you are supporting an organization with admirable ecotourism principles and practices. As an example of our working together – a percentage of the receipts of all of our tours / expeditions will be allocated to special community projects that Angel-Eco and their partners are involved with.

Angel-Eco's projects to date –

“Proyecto Kamarakoto”- an on-going project working directly with the Pemón community of Kamarata valley. The project so far has helped teach trail and environmental interpretation, rebuild lodges to tourism standards, supply important reading / writing materials to the community, supply limited medical supplies, assisted in helping local families to send their children to the local school system and even supply materials to help build schools.

Angel-Eco Tours have partnered with Angel Conservation and Fundacion Etnika - two not-for-profits working with indigenous cultures in Venezuela and also with Proyecto Maniapure who manage the local Telemedicine Project (enabled by Angel-Eco), bringing communications and medical help to the communities of Kamarata Valley.

RESPONSIBILITY
Angel-Eco Tours, Inc. shall be responsible to the participant for supplying the services and accommodations purchased by all the participants, except where such services cannot be supplied or the itinerary is changed due to delays or other causes of whatever kind of nature are beyond the control of Angel-Eco Tours. In this instance, the operator will offer comparable services. In the absence of their own negligence, neither Angel-Eco Tours, nor its agents or co-operating organizations, shall be responsible for any cancellations, delays, diversions or substitutions of equipment or any act or omission whatsoever by air carriers, hotels, transportation companies, or any other persons providing any of the services and accommodations to participants including any results thereof, such as changes in services or accommodations, necessitated by some. Nor shall Angel-Eco Tours be liable for injury, illness or death, or for any omission of any person not its direct employee or under its exclusive control. The carriers, hotels and other suppliers who provide services on tour are independent contractors; they are not agents, employees or servants of Angel-Eco Tours. Angel-Eco Tours shall not be liable for any damages or claims resulting from events beyond its control such as (without limitation) acts of God, war, weather, strikes or government restrictions. The participant waives expressly all rights that she or he may have against Angel-Eco Tours in connection with the foregoing. Angel-Eco Tours is not responsible for any criminal conduct by third parties. Transportation companies, airlines etc. are not to be held responsible for any act, omission or event during the time passengers are not on board of planned transportation or conveyances. At any time, Angel-Eco Tours may decline, for any reason, any person as a participant on trip.

AIRCRAFTS, FLIGHTS, CHANGES AND DELAYS
Participants are subject to the ticket terms and tariffs of the airlines, which when issued, shall be the sole contract between the airline and the participant.

RESPONSIBILITY OF PARTICIPANTS
Is the responsibility of the individual participant to obtain the necessary documentation. The inability of the participant to obtain the necessary visa(s) / passport prior to departure does not constitute grounds for withdrawal with refund. In such cases the standard cancellation / refund policy will apply.

RESPONSIBILITY OF TRAVEL AGENTS
The travel agent shall be responsible for ensuring that clients enrolling for Angel-Eco Tours' programs have received a copy of our full bookings terms and conditions.

Due to currency fluctuation, all quoted rates are valid for 24 hours; after that time, rates will be recalculated based on the current exchange rate at the time of final payment. We reserve the right to make changes to any of our booking conditions should any unforeseen or exceptional circumstances arise.

CANCELLATIONS & REFUND POLICY The following scale of charges will apply prior to tour commencement when cancellation is notified after Angel-Eco Tours confirms the booking. More than 30 days – 25% of total cost 30 days or less – 100% of total cost. Any additional airline charges will be assessed for all cancellations received after issuance of tickets.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Angel-Eco Tours, Inc. (including, for the purpose of this paragraph, its employees, agents, suppliers, contractors, and any person or company associated with the planning and/or execution of your trip) hereby notifies you, as a traveler, that all tickets or vouchers issued to you for transportation, conveyance, hotel accommodations, or tours are made for you on the express condition that Angel-Eco Tours shall not be liable or responsible for any injury, damage, liability, loss, accident, delay, expense or irregularity which results from any of the following: (a) any defect in any vehicle or other mode of transportation; (b) any act or omission of any person or entity engaged in conveying passengers or providing lodging or tour activities, including the acts or omissions of any agent, employee or contractor of any such person or entity; (c) any act or omission of any other person or entity engaged in carrying out the arrangements of the tour. Angel-Eco Tours shall not be liable or responsible for any injury, damage, liability, loss, accident, delay, expense or irregularity which results from (i) delays or changes in schedule or itineraries; (ii) hotel over-booking; (iii) failures of others to perform obligations for the benefit of Angel-Eco Tours or its tour participants; (iv) injury, sickness or ill health; (v) weather or action of the elements; (vi) strikes; (vii) civil disobedience, riot or war; (viii) quarantine; or (ix) other events or occurrences beyond the direct control of Angel-Eco Tours. By confirming your reservation and participating in the tour, you assume any and all risk of any and all injury, damage, liability, loss, accident, delay, expense or irregularity which may result from any or all of the events or occurrences described in this paragraph. All prices quoted are based on exchange rates in effect at the time of quote. In the event of a drop in the value of the United States Dollar relative to foreign currencies, Angel-Eco Tours may charge a supplement bearing a relation to the drop in the value of the Dollar. We retain the right to not accept or retain any individual whose actions, conduct or physical or mental condition is determined, in Angel-Eco Tours absolute and unfettered discretion, to be detrimental or incompatible with the safety, interest, comfort, harmony or well-being of any tour group as a whole. As a tour participant, you are responsible for your own baggage (and its contents) and other items throughout the entire trip - any loss or damage are at your own risk. Angel-Eco Tours shall not be liable or responsible for any injury, damage, or loss of baggage (or any contents); or for any injury, damage, liability or loss resulting from injury, damage, or loss of baggage (or any contents). You're paying a deposit, or any partial or full payment of a reservation, shall constitute your accepting all of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

HEALTH & FITNESS: I acknowledge that I am joining an active trip, and I represent and warrant that I have no knowledge of any physical, emotional or other condition or disability which may create a hazard to myself or any other tour participants. I represent and warrant that I have discussed this trip with my personal physician, who has assured me that I am physically fit and able to undertake the trip. I am not under the influence of drugs and am sufficiently qualified, trained and capable to participate in these activities. Therefore, I assume full responsibility for myself, including any minor children for which I am responsible, for bodily injury, accidents, illness, death, loss of personal property, and expenses as a result of any accident which may occur. I hereby authorize any medical treatment deemed necessary in the event of an injury while participating in the activity. I have either appropriate insurance, or in its absence, agree to pay all costs of rescue and/or medical services as may be incurred on my behalf. I also agree to wear life saving equipment when necessary for the specific activity.

RELEASE & ASSUMPTION OF RISK: In consideration of services, activities, and/or property booked or provided by Angel-Eco Tours, I, for myself and any minor children for which I am a parent, legal guardian or otherwise responsible, any heirs, personal representatives or assigns, agree that Angel-Eco Tours and each of their principals, directors, officers, agents, employees and volunteers, operators, their insurers and each and every land owner, municipal and/or governmental agency upon whose property the activity is conducted, from all liability and waive any claim for damage arising from any cause whatsoever. I hereby assume any and all risks associated with my participating in a trip offered or organized by Angel-Eco Tours, including but not limited to, any and all risks of illness, injury and death. I elect to participate in spite of the risks. I agree to wear the appropriate safety gear pertinent to the specific activity. I also agree to comply with all rules of the tour operator and follow the instructions of personnel when given. While participating in an adventure activity, I will not leave the area of activity/operation and I will stay clear of obvious hazards. I agree to know what defines the area of operation, whether on land or (in) water. I agree that if I am injured, become ill or die while traveling to or from, while participating in, or as a result of having participated in a trip (including any event or activity related to the trip) organized or offered by Angel-Eco Tours, I hereby release, waive any claim against and will not sue Angel-Eco Tours, or any board member or officer of the organization, or any employee, agent, supplier or contractor of Angel-Eco Tours, or any other organizer or sponsor of the event or activity, even though my injury, damage or death may be caused by or result from negligence or carelessness on their part. I agree that the foregoing waiver and release binds me and my heirs, distributes, guardians, legal representatives, successors and assigns.

PHOTOGRAPHY: I hereby agree to permit Angel-Eco Tours, its agents, employees, contractors, suppliers, and other tour participants to take photographs and make film records of this trip, which may include pictures of me, without compensation or further recourse. I understand and agree that such photographs may be used for commercial and/or promotional purposes.

I HAVE READ THE FOREGOING WARNING, ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RISKS & RESPONSIBILITY, AND RELEASE OF LIABILITY. I UNDERSTAND THAT BY SIGNING THE BOOKING FORM THAT I AM WAIVING VALUABLE LEGAL RIGHTS.
